

“The Concern Of The United Nations”

- The seriousness of problems posed by corruption may endanger the stability and secure of societies, undermines the value of democracy and morality and jeopardize social, economic and political development.
- There is a link between corruption and other form of crimes in particular organized crime and economic crime including money laundering.
- Cases of corruption especially on the large scale tend to involve vast of quantities of funds, which constitute a substantial proportion of the resources of the country effected, and that their diversion causes great damages to political stability and economic and social development of those countries.

(United Nation Organization)

- The developing countries arguments was still at the International Cooperation and the concept of returning illicitly acquired assets, while the developed countries emphasized the aspect of prevention and crime in corruption cases.
- The Indonesian Delegation has to proof its participation and its role to unite the International Cooperation and to show the serious effort of Indonesian Government to fight against corruption.

(Indonesian Delegation)

“When justice fails, public opinion takes over, when the law is lost in the extreme of legalism, or bends under the weight of money, mobs begin to burn and murder”.

(DR. Nono Anwar Makarim, SH, LL.M.)

Lahir di Makassar, Ujung Pandang, 19 Juni 1942, O.C. Kaligis memulai praktik pengacara dari nol dan tak pernah magang dari pengacara manapun. Hampir semua kasus dibelanya tanpa membedakan kasus. Ia pun dijuluki “Manusia Sejuta Perkara” yang kemudian telah dibukukan tepat pada hari ulang tahunnya yang ke-60. Pengacara yang tak kenal istirahat tersebut, kini sibuk mengisi waktunya dengan membuat buku.
